Form 990 - Additional Information

Organization's Mission, Continued:

To build and maintain a strong, diverse, inclusive organization, which will advocate for children, families, and professionals within our communities.

To proactively work toward upholding high quality standards in early childhood programs. To make the public aware of, and solicit their support and funding for high quality programs in centers, homes and schools for young children and their families in our community as well as the surrounding areas.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment

The INCENTIVE$ pay supplement program had 187 teachers and administrators in 108 early childhood programs participating in FY18. The goals of INCENTIVE$ are retaining teachers working with children under five and increasing the education of those teachers, thus providing higher quality early childhood education for NM's children and families. In FY 2018, the turnover of INCENTIVE$ participants was only 11% - way below the state average of around 31%. INCENTIVE$ is not only encouraging educators to continue working with young children under five, but is succeeding in getting them to take more college classes and stay at their places of employment longer. 50% of the FY 2018 INCENTIVE$ participants at a temporary education level submitted documentation to verify that they had taken more classes toward Early Childhood Education degrees. INCENTIVE$ successfully met its goals of improving the quality of early childhood education for NM's children and families by retaining a high percentage of and funds and in-kind support that help make the event a success. A committee of volunteers serves as the organizers of the conference. This event has been a pillar in the early childhood community for decades. It serves not only as a learning experience for educators but also as a teaching experience. NM educators are able to present classroom techniques to their peers. This exchange coupled with the ideas from national presenters provides a full and engaging experience for all who attend.

part in shaping early childhood legislation, tracking bills and issues and informing the broader early childhood community about what was going on and when and how to make their voices heard. NMAEYC continues to find ways to connect the early childhood community to advocacy for early care and education. This is done through organizing public policy events around the state, participating in community events and legislative meetings, and writing reports.

Included in NMAEYC's advocacy work in FY 18 is a project called Power to the Profession, supported by both the National Association for the Education of Young Children as well as two local NM Foundations: the Thornburg Foundation and the Brindle Foundation. This national project promotes discussion and consensus building around the definition, accountability, qualifications and compensation of the early childhood education (ECE) profession. The project in NM supported conversations and dialogue on these topics throughout the state in diverse populations and
